

WORLD CLASS HERITAGE CONFERENCE, 30 September - 2 October, 2011

Sponsored by York Archaeological Forum

Conference Speakers

Friday 30 September

Digging in Towns: the next decade - Prof Martin Carver (Emeritus Professor, University of York)

Saturday 1 October

Archaeological Projects in York: retrospect and prospect

The prehistory of York - Blaise Vyner (Archaeological consultant)

Roman York, from the core to the periphery: an introduction to the big picture – Dr Patrick Ottaway (Chairman, York Archaeological Forum)

Landscape development in the Vale of York at Heslington East - Dr Cath Neal (University of York)

Urban transitions: researching the archaeology of the 1st millennium AD in York at the beginning of the 3rd millennium – Dr Mark Whyman (York Archaeological Trust)

Brown field - green field: past and future studies of biological remains from York's buried heritage– Dr Allan Hall (University of York)

The critical Angle: reflections on Anglian York - Cecily Spall and Dr Nicola Toop (FAS Heritage, York)

Medieval homes and households - Nicky Rogers (York Archaeological Trust)

The archaeology of buildings – Alison Sinclair (Historic buildings consultant)

Archaeology For The Masses - Ruminations and Insights into the Archaeology of York c.1550 - 1940 AD – Peter Connelly (Director, Hungate archaeological project, York Archaeological Trust)

World-class treatment for a World-class Heritage – Dr Peter Addyman (Former Director, York Archaeological Trust)

Sunday 2 October

The management of change in a great historic city

The York Development and Archaeology Study, past, present, future: a local authority perspective – John Oxley (Principal Archaeologist, City of York Council)

Shifting Perspectives – Reflections With a View to the Future– Jim Johnson (Director, Ove Arup and Partners)

Establishing a Historic Environment Framework for York in the context of PPS5 and the NPPF – Neil Redfern (Team Leader, National Planning Dept, English Heritage, York)

Archaeology and community: participation and presentation

Community Archaeology in Greater York – Dr Jon Kenny (York Archaeological Trust)

Presenting archaeology at Jorvik and Dig – Sarah Maltby (York Archaeological Trust)

Presenting archaeology at the Yorkshire Museum - Andrew Morrison (York Museums Trust)